

PEEK AT THE WEEK

What have we been learning this week?

Date: 27th April 2012

Ready, Steady, GO!

This week we have begun our new unit of learning - The Olympics! We had a fantastic day yesterday at Stadion and hope those of you who were able to come and watch enjoyed yourselves as much as we did.

In the classroom, we have been learning about 2D shapes; as well as learning the names of 2D shapes, we have been talking about how many sides and corners the different shapes have. To help with our learning, we have designed Olympic stamps, using lots of shapes to make pictures of different Olympic events.

We have also been busy designing and making our new role play areas. Reception I have set up a fantastic medical centre, where athletes can be treated for any injuries they may have picked up. Thanks to a demonstration from Nurse Sophie they are now very good at applying bandages! Reception R are still busy setting up the BIPSS Airport, making sure all the spectators get to the Olympic Games.

Throughout our Olympics unit, we will have some challenges of our own, including our Olympic Reading challenge. Just like athletes, we are trying to get better and better all the time - trying to reach our Personal Best. There are some good phonics games on: www.ictgames.co.uk that might help your athletes with their training!
